

Let's...

dwell in possibility...

emily dickinson

Please join us for an afternoon of delight and whimsy reading poems by American and British authors and poems translated into English.

We will discuss figures of speech, imagery, and other elements. We will focus on word choice and its effects. We will also read prose poems and short stories.

William Shakespeare

Edgar A. Poe

We loved with a love that was more than love.
- Edgar Allan Poe

And Spring arose on the garden fair,
Like the Spirit of Love felt everywhere;
And each flower and herb on Earth's dark breast
Rose from the dreams of its wintry rest.

~Percy Bysshe Shelley

This is a great opportunity to improve critical thinking skills, learn vocabulary and understand the subtleties and nuances of the English language.

Discover how reading poetry and short stories sparks your imagination and helps you become a better thinker and writer. We will use reading as a tool for success. In other words, we will use English as a vehicle for success: English as a Success Language.

The Poetry Group meets Mondays from 3:30 to 4:30 in Study Room # 125-LMC Library.