

Tools for Tolerance®

A PROGRAM OF THE
SIMON WIESENTHAL CENTER
MUSEUM OF TOLERANCE

A Unique Opportunity for College Professionals

TOOLS FOR TOLERANCE® FOR PROFESSIONALS is an interactive professional development and leadership training program designed to help education professionals increase self awareness and advance initiatives that support commitment to diversity on campuses.

A program of the highly acclaimed Museum of Tolerance (MOT), Los Angeles, Tools for Tolerance® for Professionals offers customized programs that engage participants in discussions on tolerance, diversity, ethics, and personal responsibility as they apply to the workplace, community and larger society. The only Museum of its kind in the world, the MOT exposes the dynamics of prejudice and discrimination in both historical and contemporary contexts. Evocative exhibits using state of the art technology stimulate profound cognitive and emotive learning experiences.

Set in the immersive learning environment of the MOT, Tools for Tolerance® for Professionals offers a unique opportunity for college professionals to gain new insights as they address their particular concerns and challenges with the guidance of experienced facilitators and consultants.

The multi-faceted program includes: a guided tour of the Museum, meeting a speaker whose personal testimony brings history to life, facilitated group dialogue, and interactive workshops that enhance intercultural competencies and guide action-planning for inclusive, multi-dimensional campuses.

Participants in Tools for Tolerance® for Professionals will:

- Gain a deeper awareness of the dynamics of prejudice and discrimination both past and present
- Explore ethical and historical frameworks to support diversity and equity policies on campus
- Discuss and identify strategies for action in collaboration with other team members
- Expand resources for follow-up and ongoing alliances

Programs can be customized in 1-5 day sessions or retreats.

For reservations and information call Beverly P. LeMay, Program Manager, at 310.772.7620 or e-mail mot@wiesenthal.net

"The time spent with my colleagues in this environment has been of significant value to me as one of their leaders. I have repeatedly sensed their shock, horror and sadness and then watched it be transformed into commitment, passion and action."

— Dr. Pamela Fisher, Chancellor, Yosemite Community College District
