Transfer and Career Services has an opportunity over spring break during the weekday (April 3-7) to explore different fields. “You speak with and shadow a career professional and attend workshops. Listed that some of the companies who will be present include State Farm Insurance, Croskey Real Estate, Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, Hampton Inn, City of Antioch, etc.D. Senator Ishola asked, “is this open only to LMCAS students?” President Cortez responded that although it is open to everyone, space is limitedE. The deadline for this is March 10. Requirements included a completed resume and cover letter explaining why you want to be a part of the job shadowing. In addition to this, applicants must list their top three options because within application process, spots are limited and they want to know what your preferences are IX. From Nilton Serva: <ul style="list-style-type: none">A. Announced the ‘Young Professional’s Conference’ for young professional college students, a speaking event for anyone from LMC. Tickets are $25 per person and will be held in San Ramon. Saturday April 1 sometime in the morningB. Asked, “is there anything we can openly share with other students, like dropbox?” President Cortez responded that since LMCAS is an organization and gathers regarding decisions within LMCAS, that would be violating bylaws, and this also applies to group messages. “This is the purpose of the Public Comment items and email. But that’s a great question.”

		“how would you go about letting the Student Body know about the different programs out there?” B. He responded that when he applied, he took a placement test and “right off the bat,” was unaware of all the programs available and “walked in with a blind eye.” Wishes to transfer to UC Berkeley as well and thinks that it would be effective to host workshops as, “for me, that would have changed a lot for me and would have increased my awareness.” Also thinks it would be cool to distribute a packet that details the mission goals of each group as well as meeting and contact information so that students can plan their schedules accordingly. Is involved in baseball, Debate Society, and Honors C. President Cortez then asked, “how would that be different from Club Day, Transfer Center services, etc?” D. Guest McMullen responded that this would be in addition to all of those things. Would have resources that would be essential to not only increasing transfer rate. “In my personal experience, I think this kind of thing would be super helpful and would increase involvement no matter whether the student is interested in transferring or not. We could always think of new ideas along the way.” E. President Cortez: “So this is kind of like a questions and answers booklet?” F. Guest McMullen’s response: “Not really, it would be more of a listing. The head of those clubs can give a little description. They can get people from those clubs to give more input.” G. Senator Ishola: “What do you think would be the best way to distribute these packets?” H. Guest McMullen’s response: “We can give them out for free during the existing workshops.” I. President Cortez: “More of a practical question...you did mention that you are already a part of the above three mentioned groups (baseball, Debate Society, and Honors.) How are you going to prioritize LMCAS? Personally I had to make a sacrifice, or rather, a decision.” J. Guest McMullen’s response: “I have about 35 hours of free time in my schedule. I actually have a lot of free time even though I am a part of three different groups.” K. President Cortez: “How do you plan out your weeks”

		L. Guest McMullen’s response: “In three hour increments. I have a calendar. I calculated it on my computer.” M. Senator Serva: “If more people were to know about Berkeley TAP, wouldn’t it make it harder to get in?” N. Guest McMullen’s response: “Well yes, the competition pool would be bigger, but that would not change the chances of people getting in.” O. Vice-President Garcia added that a lot of students find it inconvenient to commute to Berkeley/those who are concurrently taking classes P. Guest McMullen: “So even with a packet, we ensure that people know for sure rather than them not.” Q. Senator Atum: “Do you think we should give these kinds of “care” packages to incoming high school students while they’re still in school?” R. Guest McMullen’s response: “Definitely. I might even choose LMC over DVC, when it comes to choosing between the two, because I’d know in detail what each school has to offer in terms of programs, clubs, etc.” S. Senator Alvarado: “Do you work?” T. Guest McMullen’s response: “I work on Sundays.” II. For Tammy Smith: A. President Cortez asked, “what triggered you to joining LMCAS?” B. Guest Smith responded that it came down to “how do we spend our money, and how do we spend our time?” She continued, “many of us are in that middle ground and yet we do not qualify to participate within those services. I tried to make a difference in my own little way but back then, the time just wasn’t there.” C. President Cortez: “When did you begin LMC?” D. Guest Smith’s response: “Back in 2012. Back then, I took very few units and got the chance to talk to many people who did not even know what LMCAS is. Information needs to be passed to those who come mostly in the evening in addition to those in the morning.”

		E. President Cortez: “How would you inform evening students?” F. Guest Smith’s response: “Not necessarily anything different but I would advocate for more evening events.” Also noticed that Brentwood students are very isolated with some of them not being able to come to Pittsburg because of lack of transportation and wants to find a way to get everyone involved because she feels there is a disconnect. “We are all a part of this community.” G. Senator Ishola: “When you mention the biggest issue facing students as financial uncertainty, how would you address that?” H. Guest Smith’s response: “A small step was getting involved with the READ club.” Wants their initiatives to become permanent. “Many professor’s assign a textbook and expect students to do homework quickly, but if financial aid does not come in, students cannot properly complete assignments even if they try to check them out at the library in which they don’t always have copies available. As a club and a community, we can start buying books for those students. That can possibly be five students in a day borrowing the same textbook.” I. Senator Ishola: “Who would be in charge of this?” J. Guest Smith’s response: “The LMC Foundation. A system would be in place for students to be able to loan books.” K. Senator Atum: “I really liked what you had to say about transportation. The Brentwood and Pittsburg campuses feel like islands even though they have the same name. I had classmates in classes from Discovery Bay who had to drive a long way to Pittsburg and this affected the way they got involved in the community. How do you plan to address transportation?” L. Guest Smith’s response” “By organizing carpools. I had friends who also had children to tend to. Lack of money for gas can affect attendance. We organized ourselves a carpool system beginning in Discovery Bay, then Brentwood, then myself in Antioch, and from there arrived in Pittsburgh.” M. President Cortez said that he knows someone working for Tri Delta Transportation who may look into this issue

9	Request for Support: AGS Conference	<ul style="list-style-type: none">I. From Jelani Johnson, Diana Cobian, and Phil Gottlieb:<ul style="list-style-type: none">A. Guest Johnson introduced the Alpha Gamma Sigma Society 91st Annual Convention in Ontario, Canada this year. “Gaddi Vasquez will be a luncheon speaker at the event.” (Orange County Supervisor)B. Guest Cobian quoted John Quincy Adams regarding leadership. As a chapter of AGS, this is an opportunity for them to represent LMC. Last year, she was in a wheelchair, but then the president of AGS asked her if she would be able to be a part of it and wondered how would she get to be a part of the stage since there was no ramp available. So her team members decided to carry her wheelchair up the stairs. Everyone was watching. “Why was that important?” It showed the audience that her members were adamant to have her on stage rather than leaving her behind because she had something to contribute. Posed question to LMCAS: “Do you think that it is important to have us attend?”C. Guest Johnson distributed a sheet entitled ‘State Convention Financial Break Down.’ Amount still needed is $2,080. He stated that AGS has already raised over $3,000 from various fundraisers. “One of the things we did in the past was putting on a 21k run around the campus/lake.”D. Guest Cobian said that this year she is helping homeless shelters and throwing birthday parties for children who cannot afford having special events and serve to make them feel valued and special, “to feel like they matter.”E. Guest Gottlieb said anywhere from 400-500 people will be attendingF. President Cortez asked, “why $2,080 specifically?”G. Guest Johnson responded that these are rough estimates from the past. “The cost per student is $75 and some students do not wish to share a bed.”H. President Cortez took the time to commend them for their efforts and asked them if they have seen membership growth from last yearI. Guest Johnson said from his understanding, it always increases from each spring semester. Said there was about 10 more students this year compared to last year. President Cortez then

Guest Johnson responded that it is not just funds from recently, but that they have been saving up money since last fall not included in the paper distributed L. Vice-President Garcia asked, “did you [AGS] attend last year?” M. Guest Gottlieb responded yes, and they came last year to request money from LMCAS as well. He has been here as their advisor since 2004. Both a club on campus and a statewide chapter N. Senator Ishola asked, “why is the lumpia sale the only projected sale?” O. Guest Johnson responded that they have a deadline to submit money. Then Senator Ishola clarified, “so all money would go toward AGS?” P. Guest Johnson said yes, so long as it makes an impact on the community. Two $500.00 scholarships are given to a continuing student and a transferring student Q. Further elaborated that scholarships are available at the convention. Said there are three different categories and they have been winning for the past four years. Guest Gottlieb added that this is “pretty exceptional.” R. Vice-President Garcia: “Have you thought about reducing the amount of 35 people?” S. Guest Johnson responded that it is very important to have as many people attending as many members get to break out of their shell, do not get to know each other since they meet once a week and have this opportunity to bond T. President Cortez remarked that although he commends them, “the reality is that we are in a financial deficit. Assuming we cannot fund the entire amount, what will you do?” U. Guest Cobian responded that they would try to do more fundraisers V. President Cortez: “Are the people going now paying for themselves?” W. Guest Gottlieb said yes, they pay partially, “though we have never gotten to that point.” X. Commissioner Lee: Is there an application process to go through with it? Guest Cobian said

		no, “they get selected.” Then Commissioner Lee said that perhaps the people who applied should have priority in attending. “As far as I’m concerned, the people who applied for scholarships should go. 35 people is a lot considering our tight budget.” Y. Senator Ishola asked, “what are the criteria to apply for scholarships?” Guest Gottlieb responded, “a minimum 3.0 GPA, and in order to qualify for academic scholarship, 3.75 minimum, as well as letters of recommendation.” Z. After AGS left, Senator Atum asked President Cortez about the amount the board is allowed to approve. President Cortez replied that it is up to the senators to decide the amount
10	Request for Support: Veteran’s Pasta Feed	I. From Diane Ferguson: A. Came to speak on behalf of ICC for the LMC Veterans Appreciation Dinner. Instead of catering, they will prepare the food themselves, which will be a “spaghetti feed.” Will also hold a White Elephant Auction B. President Cortez asked about costs. “The costs will be for non-LMC students, and any fees made will go toward funding scholarships for veterans and buying a copy machine for the Veteran center.” She added that the Veteran’s Center is run without a budget. The officers are going to “Operation Veteran Center Funding” in Sacramento to lobby for funding for 113 veteran centers across California C. She continued to add that the center is run by five work study students who are paid out of their GI bill. “However, there is no money for supplies or new equipment. The center itself was generously built with a few grants but with no money left to operate it.” D. Commissioner Lee once again clarified what they would be putting the money into. Guest Ferguson responded, “not necessarily to run the center but buy new supplies. Most of the money will come from the auction as we do not expect to make much money from the dinner itself.” E. President Cortez asked why there is $500.00 allocated for spaghetti as he feels the cost is too high. Guest Ferguson responded that they probably did not research the prices well enough.

Senator Alvarado asked, “where are you purchasing sheet cakes?” Guest Ferguson said at Safeway. Senator Alvarado then said it would be much cheaper to purchase at Costco G. Senator Serva strongly suggested going back to cut down prices to which Guest Ferguson clarified that some money was already approved from ICC B. Senator Atum asked whether it was possible to make a very specific itemized list C. Commissioner Lee said that as a club, Student Life services offers free marketing and that would be a much smarter option rather than paying someone outside to do it D. Senator Ishola suggested having a senator to assist them in addition to Commissioner Lee’s suggestion E. Guest Ferguson let the board know that she would be gone along with some of the veterans this Wednesday to Sacramento as she mentioned previously F. President Cortez once again summed up that the board seems to be on consensus with getting a cut down, more concise budget. Vice-President Garcia said the decision would be made by today G. Senator Ishola asked, “when is the latest time to decide on food?” Vice-President Garcia replied, “a week prior.” The board has the rest of March to figure it out (By April 1st or 3rd). H.
