

RSI in Action

Humanizing Online Teaching for Equity and Success

This professional development course empowers 4CD faculty to bring their online teaching to the next level by mastering Regular and Substantive Interaction (RSI)—the federal requirement that keeps students engaged and ensures online courses truly support learning. Through hands-on work and collaborative learning, participants will:

- Demystify RSI: Understand its regulatory context and why it matters for equity and student success
- Humanize online teaching: Develop authentic, empathetic practices that foster connection, belonging, and trust
- Design with UDL: Build accessible, inclusive Canvas content that works for all students
- Create & reflect: Leave with ready-to-use materials, strategies, and a plan for continuous improvement
