Good Morning Senators!

I wanted to provide a follow up to yesterday's meeting. During my first meeting with Sally this semester, she and I discussed the issues around reassigned time and the past uneven implementation of policies regarding reassigned time. She and I agreed that we need a clear policy that would be enforced fairly across all departments and apply evenly to all faculty (especially because we expect the imminent announcement of several reassigned time positions related to guided pathways). Sally asked me if she should propose a policy or if I wanted the Academic Senate to take the lead in proposing a policy. I suggested it would be better to let the senate take the lead in this process.

After yesterday's meeting it seems clear to me that many senators either 1) don't believe this is in the senate's purview or 2) don't seem to think the enforcement of reassigned time policies has been a problem. Accordingly, in consultation with the senate council, we have decided to not bring the resolution back for a second read at our next meeting.

I will advise Sally that her office should take the lead in developing a policy and should rely on the UF for feedback and negotiations.

A copy of this email will appear in your packets for the February 25th meeting.
