Districtwide Service Recognition Awards

The annual Districtwide service recognition awards reception was held May 10, 2018, at Diablo Valley College's Diablo Room. On hand to present the awards for serving 20, 25, 30 and 35 years were Governing Board Secretary Vicki Gordon and Member Greg Enholm, who honored employees for their many years of dedication to the District.

4CDLI Celebrates Graduation

Twenty happy faces filled the District Office Board room as the Contra Costa Community College District Leadership Institute (4CDLI) class of 2018 celebrated their graduation and received their certificates of completion. The 20 participants represented classified, faculty and management-level staff from across Contra Costa College, Diablo Valley College, Los Medanos College and the District Office.

During the six-month program, participants attended a variety of professional development workshops and completed several activities that included an advocacy and job shadow assignment. The group was also tasked with a project to identify and propose solutions to Districtwide issues. The 2018 4CDLI graduates are as follows:

"I feel very fortunate to have participated in 4CDLI. It not only provided an outstanding forum to further develop effective leadership skills, it gave me the opportunity to interact and form wonderful, lasting relationships with colleagues from across our College District who share the common goal of excellence for our students and communities."

Nikki Moultrie, DVC

"The 4CDLI program really helped us build our leadership skills in areas we hadn't developed yet and strengthen areas we needed improvement in. It's really just about taking care of the whole person and building up leaders in the District. I met a lot of great people and it was nice getting to know them outside of their jobs and interacting with people who are the future leaders of our community colleges."

Joel Nickelson-Shanks, CCC

Now in its fifth cohort, 4CDLI was created by former Chancellor Helen Benjamin and is coordinated by Director of Communications and Community Relations, Tim Leong and HR Support Services Manager, Andrea Medina. The biennial program is expected to continue under current Chancellor Fred Wood and will host its next cohort in 2020.

Kennedy King Scholarship Awards

The annual Kennedy King Memorial Scholarship Awards dinner commenced on May 18, 2018, at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Concord, where 36 undergraduates and four graduates were recognized for their academic achievements. With family and friends surrounding them, proud recipients shared their educational aspirations now made possible through the scholarship awards, which totaled $380,000 collectively.

This year's scholarship ceremony celebrated the 50th anniversary of the program by acknowledging founding members and revisiting former scholarship recipients from the past 50 years.

Founded in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Senator Robert F. Kennedy, the Kennedy-King Memorial Scholarship has granted nearly $3,000,000 in scholarships to almost 600 students since its founding. All scholars have completed at least two years of study at Contra Costa College, Diablo Valley College, or Los Medanos College, and have been accepted at a four-year university to complete their undergraduate studies.

Classified Employee of the Year

On May 14, 2018, Los Medanos College's (LMC) BethAnn Robertson was honored as one of four California Community Colleges Classified Employees of the Year (CEOY). For the past eight years, Robertson has worn many hats at LMC, including her current roles as Senior Administrative Assistant, Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) Test Remediation Coordinator and Grant Project Manager.

Robertson's involvement in her community and campus life is evident through her work on the planning team, accreditation steering committee, the Stand-Down for Homeless Vets program, the Dozier Libbey High School Advisory Board, and countless collaborations for high school and college career fairs. Robertson is the fourth District classified professional in the past six years to receive this distinguished statewide award.

"Classified employees are the backbone of our system," said California Community Colleges Board of Governors President Cecilia V. Estolano. "The work they do is instrumental in creating a position educational experience for our students. On behalf of all 114 California community colleges, we thank them for the exceptional work they do for our system."

Established in 2008, and first handed out in 2009, the award is presented annually to community college classified employees who demonstrate the highest level of commitment to professionalism and the community colleges. Recipients are nominated by members of their college or district community and endorsed by their local board of trustees. The CEOY Award is supported through a grant from the Foundation for California Community Colleges.

Contra Costa County Office of Education Teacher of the Year

The Contra Costa Community College District has selected Los Medanos College (LMC) Instructor Cecil Nasworthy as their nominee for the annual Teacher of the Year (TOY) program. Nasworthy has been an instructor for over 30 years, with the past 16 spent developing, implementing and instructing in the Electronic Technology (ETEC) program at LMC. Nasworthy's lengthy teaching history includes institutions such as Swainboro Vocational Tech in Georgia, Heald College of Technology in Concord, Martinez Adult School (International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers apprenticeship program) and the training program at USS Posco in Pittsburg. Nasworthy is well known in his campus community as a dedicated and committed instructor and mentor to his students and colleagues alike.

For ETEC student Gregory Lewis, it was Nasworthy's professional and patient teaching style that made the learning material easier to comprehend. "I wanted to learn more and succeed in his program because he made learning not so much of a challenge, but an adventure," shared Lewis, who is pursuing an Associate of Science degree in Electrical and Electronic Technology. "Having an instructor that made it more of an adventure than work was exciting to me."

Nasworthy joins 21 other nominees from Contra Costa County schools. The Contra Costa County Office of Education (CCCOE) TOY program recognizes outstanding instructors throughout the county, with finalists competing at the state and national level. Each year, one instructor from the District is submitted to the TOY program for his/her outstanding body of work with their designated college.
