b. Please discuss the relationship and engagement with other support services, programs, and/or instruction or administrative units and how these relationships support the department, program or unit to meet its goals.

Transfer exploration and preparation is woven into every academic and student support component of the college, and with that, Transfer Services works closely and partners with almost every department on campus. While collaborations with other units on campus have led to great success at the college, there are also internal factors that are currently having a significant impact on our department's ability to effectively support transfer success.

Since the 2018-2019 C	omprehensive Program Review, the following new internal partnerships and collaborations have developed:
Articulation Work Group	 In Spring 2021, Transfer Services and the Office of Instruction began convening an Articulation Work Group for the College, with the goal of developing comprehensive policies and procedures for the identification and articulation of course-to-course major prep classes with UC and CSU campuses. The ultimate goal is to increase the number of individual course articulation alignments. The group has met 5 times, and has developed: A college project plan for articulation, including goals to improve course identification, submission, and follow up processes, faculty and counselor training, and policies and procedures. An additional document for college operations that includes an annual articulation workflow, roles and responsibilities across the institution, and detailed directions for articulation process and steps by area.
Curriculum Committee Tech Review: Transfer Representative	In Spring 2021, a representative from Transfer Services was added as a member of the Tech Review team for LMC's Curriculum Committee, with the goal of

c. Please describe how external factors (if applicable), such as State and Federal laws, advisory board recommendations, changing demographics, etc. have an impact on the support services your department, program, or administrative unit provides.

Like every facet of the college, Transfer Services was deeply impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. From Spring 2020 to Spring 2021, the following activities were significantly impacted by the transition to remote-only student support and instruction, pandemic-related budget restrictions, and student need:

- · Zero university tours were held
- Very few class presentations were scheduled for face-to-face or synchronous sections
- Transfer Services was unable to hire student employees for Summer 2020, and could only employ one fifth of normal student ambassador team for 2020-2021
- All other programming (workshops, application support, university representative campus visits and meetings, and transfer events) were pivoted to an online-only format.

Additionally, Transfer Services pivoted in multiple ways to adapt support systems, and areas of focus, to the needs, priorities, and modalities of students during the last two years.

- All programming (workshops, application support, university representative visits and meetings, and transfer events) were pivoted to an online-only format.
 Recording and publishing workshops and presentations to be available to students unable to attend synchronous sessions
- Transfer Services professionals met with students to navigate changing application requirements and other transfer issues related to the pandemic

In department analysis of the last two years, and in specifically asking ourselves how adapting to a forced-remote environment has impacted our support services, Transfer Services has identified the following areas for further exploration:

- Building bridges and access between university representatives and students became much easier and more successful with increased virtual university information sessions and increased familiarity with Zoom and other virtual platforms. Workshop attendance increased when held virtually, and more universities were able to participate in information sessions and application workshops (primarily due to the ability to participate without travel).
- Creative student communication and connection is more important than ever, when students are inundated with Canvas announcements and Outlook emails. Communication methods like phone calls, video tutorials, and social media engagement may be more time intensive, but have a higher rate of connection. The loss of intrusive connections like classroom presentations and on-campus tabling reduced college-wide familiarity with Transfer Services and support available.

d. Describe current level of staff, including full-time and part time faculty/staff and other categories of employment.

In addition to the Organization Chart below, Transfer & Career Services employs an average of eight student workers to act as "Student Ambassadors"- staffing the front desk, performing minor administrative duties, peer mentoring in transfer exploration, and guiding students through transfer applications.

- Academic/Student Services Manager: Rachel Anicetti
 - Senior Program Coordinator: Sandra Parsons
 - o Program Coordinator: Vacant since September 2019, currently unfunded
 - Transfer Academy Counselor: David Reyes

and activities, and post to the department's social media accounts. Student ambassadors attend weekly meetings with the staff team, as well as monthly All Student Services Meetings, and take part in many of the decision making processes for the department.

d. IF APPLICABLE: Please provide an Advisory Board Update and Analysis. Include dates of Advisory Board meetings in 2019-20 and 2020-21, and those completed or planned in 2021-2022. Provide a brief description of the major items discussed and any action taken by your Advisory Board between 2019-2021.

Transfer Services holds annual advisory meetings with representatives from public and private four-year institutions. Below is a summary of advisory meetings for the 2019-2020, and 2020-2021 academic years.

Major Outcomes of 19-20 and 20-21 Advisory meetings: major topics of discussion during the last series of advisory meetings have revolved around tailoring partnership with universities to provide more unique information to students based on their pathway. We have seen a benefit in student engagement with smaller institutions: as a result of advisory meetings, small institutions like University of the Pacific, Palo Alto University, and UMass Global (formally Brandman University), have partnered to provide joint presentations on transferring to a psychology program, or private institutions and education. Interested students are able to learn about multiple smaller institutions at one time, and the information is delivered with their major in mind. The 2020-2021 advisory meeting included a planning session for university representatives on strategies and ideas for adapting university engagement in a pathway model. This has led to pathway-based exploration and application sessions hosted by universities.

Next Steps for Spring 2022 Advisory: Transfer Services will be inviting a more board inclusion of LMC representatives in future advisory meetings. Student, faculty, and administration voices from the college will be invited to contribute to a more robust discussion in future meetings.

3. Vision for Success Goals Update : Version by Anicetti, Rachel on 01/31/2022 19:17

a. Summarize your program's strategies to increase success for populations identified in LMC's Equity Plan: African American students, foster/former foster youth, low income students, and students in DSPS.*

Link to LMC Equity Plan: https://www.losmedanos.edu/equity/plan.aspx (https://www.losmedanos.edu/equity/plan.aspx)

Transfer Services has multiple strategies to increase success for populations identified in LMC's Equity Plan:

- 1. Data Informed Services: beginning in the Fall 2019 term, Transfer Services began collecting all student contact (drop-in, workshops, class presentations, and tours) through SARS so that rosters can be generated and run through Tableau. This allows the unit to disaggregate contact by populations in LMC's Equity Plan, complete gaps analysis, and identify areas to increase marketing or services.
- 2. Strategic Planning through Equity Lenses: goals developed through the department's strategic planning process, comprehensive program review, or Learning Support Outcomes have individualized goals for populations identified in LMC's Student Equity Plan.
- 3. Partnership with Key Campus Organizations: Transfer Services partners with college departments and organizations to engage with students each semester. These groups include EOPS, student clubs, DSPS, the Foster Youth taskforce, SRSS, and learning communities.

While Transfer Services began implementing strategies above in Fall 2019, the campus closure and pivot to remote services disrupted some of its progress. Engagement tracking methods did not initially transfer smoothly to an online-only format, and we had to re-start these efforts in Fall 2021. Transfer outcomes have decreased for Black/African-American students in the last two application cycles, and we are developing strategies to increase application numbers (see goals below). b. Please align your goals from Program Review Year Three with the accreditation and Vision for Success indicators below.

Briefly describe at least three of the most significant changes/improvements your department, program or service area made in the past three years as a response to analysis and discussion of learning support outcome result.

In response to continued analysis of student learning outcomes over the last three years, the following changes and improvements have been implemented: 1. Additional content regarding transfer timelines (roadmaps from first semester to transfer) has been incorporated into a "Transfer Basics" workshop

2. Additional content regarding transfer information to in-state private institutions has been incorporated into a "Transfer Basics" workshop

3. Transfer Services is now host to the HBCU Caravan, a transfer fair dedicated to the exploration of Historically Black Colleges and Universities. The HBCU transfer Fair includes transfer alumni panels and transfer workshops for HBCUs.
